The Financial Futures Program
Resource Guide

(Spring 2023)
Welcome to the Financial Futures Resource Guide!

It is the mission of the Champlain Valley Office of Economic Opportunity (CVOEO) to help people in Addison, Chittenden, Franklin and Grand Isle counties achieve economic independence while also addressing fundamental issues of economic, social, and racial justice. This resource guide has been created to help you cut expenses, stick to a budget, and to better understand the resources available to you. Resources have been arranged by topic with a description of service provided, contact information, and physical location (when possible). Click on the name of each resource to be brought to a website with more information.

This guide was produced by the Financial Futures Program, a program of the Champlain Valley Office of Economic Opportunity (CVOEO) for low-moderate income residents of Northwest Vermont.

Financial Futures offers a variety of programs to help you achieve economic success. All services are free to low- and moderate-income adults in Chittenden, Franklin, Grand Isle, and Addison Counties.

2. Vermont Gas Customers offers a 20% discount to income-eligible Vermonters on their gas bill.

Notes on Fuel and Utilities

- Electric companies disconnect about 7,000 households each year – many are avoidable. Those who face a disconnection of residential electric or natural gas services should call the company immediately. If no resolution is worked out, call the Vermont Dept. of Public Service Consumer Affairs Division at 1(800) 622-4496.

- Between November 1 and March 31, electric and natural gas companies may not turn off residential service if the forecasted temperature will drop below 10 degrees (32 degrees is someone in the household is 62 or older and the company is told about the older person).

- Utility companies and fuel companies will often make reasonable repayment arrangements with the customer to prevent a disconnection.

- Prior to moving to a new dwelling find out what the primary fuel source is and who the supplier and electric company is, find out if they require good credit or a deposit to become a customer and ask what the average bill for that unit is.

- Utility companies can and do disconnect during the winter.

- Having children does not prevent a disconnection.

- Seasonal Fuel Assistance benefits that are not used by April 30 are returned to the fuel office.

- Renters that have their heat included in the rent and those who are roomers may be eligible for a smaller Seasonal Fuel Assistance benefit.

- There is no assistance for cooking fuel, fuel that only heats the hot water or electricity that is not connected to the heating system.

- There is no assistance if the name on the account is not a member of the household or if the account is in a child’s name.

- A note from a physician may prevent a disconnection for 30 days and can be renewed for another 30 days – notes can only be used 3 times during a year and only 2 times in a row.

- Many churches and community groups have funds to assist with fuel and utilities, but usually require that funds at Community Action be utilized first.

Taxes

When we earn income, we need to pay taxes on our earnings. One way the government helps low- and moderate-income workers build assets is by giving tax breaks. These tax credits can put a lot of cash back into your pocket, your savings, your investment account, or into a deposit on a home. Tax credits can help you to build wealth over time. They include:

1. Free Tax Prep Services (VITA) offered by CVOEO, United Way Working Bridges Program, and the City of Burlington. They will figure out what you qualify for, so no need to be an expert on tax credits. The site opens February 1st and is available by appointment only. Call 211 to register for the free tax service.
   - There is no cost to have your taxes done, and tax forms are uploaded electronically so you get your refund fast. Plus, preparers will help you get every tax credit you are eligible for, including those listed below.
   - Eligibility: 2020 earnings must be less than $57,000 to qualify.
   - If you prefer to do your own taxes and/or make less than $64,000, you can also use the IRS Free File Software Tool to find free tax software offered by various companies.

2. Federal and Vermont “Earned Income Tax Credit” (EITC) reduces the amount of federal income taxes you owe. Even if you do not earn enough to owe taxes, a credit is paid to you. You apply for the credit when you file income tax forms. It was designed to boost the wages of eligible families. For more information call 1 (800) 829-1040

3. Federal “Child Tax Credit” helps families offset some of the costs of raising children under the age of 17. Even families who owe little or no income tax can receive at least some of this credit as a refund. Worth up to $1,000 per qualifying child.

4. Federal and Vermont “Child & Dependent Tax Credit” offsets some of the child and dependent care costs that families pay in order to work or look for work. Federal credit is worth up to $2,100. Vermont credit is worth up to $1,050.

5. Federal “Saver’s Credit” (Retirement Savings Contributions Credit) is designed as a tax credit that can be claimed by low and moderate income people with taxable income who make voluntary contributions to a retirement vehicle: IRAs, 401ks, and other employer-sponsored plans. Worth up to $1,000 ($2,000 if married filing jointly).

6. Property Tax Adjustment Credit assists VT residents to pay property taxes over an established percentage of their household income. It is designed to "income-sensitize" the property tax. The property tax adjustment credit is paid directly to the town from the State, then the town issues the homeowner a property tax bill for the balance due. The property tax adjustment calculation uses the previous tax year’s household income and property taxes. Vermont does not have a property tax relief program specifically for seniors. (802) 828-2865.
